

MSc Environment and International Development

180 credits total. Taught modules = 120 credits. Exam = 20 credits. Dissertation = 40 credits. A module = 20 credits.

	Compulsory modules	Optional DEV modules:	DEV skills teaching (non credited)
Autumn Semester	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Understanding Global Environmental Change • Research Techniques and Analysis 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Climate Change Policy for Development • Development Perspectives • Econometric Methods for Development • Rural Livelihoods and Agrarian Change • Gender Concepts for Development • Governance, Democracy and Development • Introduction to Education for Development • Microeconomics of Development • Perspectives on Globalisation • Social Analysis for International Development • Water Security Theory and Concepts • Welfare and Evaluation in Development • Econometric Methods for Development 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Induction workshops • Academic skills support (essay writing, referencing etc)
Spring Semester	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Political Ecology of Environment and Development • Tools and Skills in Environment and Development 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Applied Methods for Impact Evaluation • Conflict, Peace and Security • Contemporary World Development • Educational Policy and Practice for Development § • Environmental Economics § • Globalisation, Industrialisation and Development ¶ • Health and Development ¶ • International Economic Policy • Macroeconomics of Development • Media and International Development • Media and Development in Practice (limited places) • Advanced Qualitative Research Methods • Rural Policies and Politics • Globalised Agriculture and Food Systems • Water Security Tools and Policy § ¶ Will be timetabled in the same paired slot	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Academic skills support (eg dissertation) • Development practice skills training workshops
Summer	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Exam (20 credits) • Dissertation (40 credits) 		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Optional internship

Although every effort is made to provide the full range of modules, some combinations may not be possible and in some years certain modules may not be available.