UEA Research Council Studentships

Many students at the University of East Anglia hold fully-funded studentships covering fees and a stipend. These are either funded directly by the University or from other funders. Major funders include the UK and European Research Councils listed below, who allocate funds to the University which are then used to fund studentships for individuals. Applicants interested in these opportunities at UEA should look at the UEA website below and follow through to projects or supervisors in specific areas of interest.

Charities, Foundations and Trusts

Many charities, foundations and trusts award partial funding to postgraduate study but the awards are competitive so a strong application is required to be successful. For more information visit the Association of Charitable Foundations website: www.acf.org.uk

Loans

Professional and Career Development Loans are available for a number of vocational courses and can be from £300 to £10,000. Repayment of the loan begins one month after you have completed your course. For more information visit: www.gov.uk/career-development-loans/overview

PhD Funding

The University of East Anglia offers a number of studentships for a period of three years for research students. They are open to home and international candidates who have (or who expect to gain) good honours degrees. Some Schools of Study also require further qualifications. Studentships normally cover home fees, research training support grant and a maintenance stipend. For more information on what is available please visit: www.uea.ac.uk/study/postgraduate/research-degrees

Doctoral Training Partnerships

The University is involved in three prestigious Doctoral Training Partnerships: CHASE (Arts and Humanities), EnvEast (Natural Environment) and the Norwich Biosciences DTP (Biotechnology and Biological Sciences). A number of research studentships are available to high-quality candidates in these areas, often working in collaboration with staff based at institutes on the Norwich Research Park or with other world-class organisations.
