

THE DEAN'S PRIZE FOR THE FACULTY
OF ARTS AND HUMANITIES
FOR YEAR 2 UNDERGRADUATES

TRUTH OR TRUST

IS THE REAL PROBLEM NOT SO MUCH THAT WE LIVE IN POST-TRUTH SOCIETIES,
BUT POST-TRUST ONES?

SIMPLE LABELS. COMPLEX ISSUES.
EXPLORE THIS QUESTION AND YOU COULD WIN £500

THE DEAN'S PRIZE IS AN ANNUAL COMPETITION OPEN TO UNDERGRADUATE YEAR 2 STUDENTS REGISTERED IN THE FACULTY OF ARTS AND HUMANITIES.

Aiming to showcase the creative work of our arts and humanities students, it's a great way to demonstrate your skills. The winner will receive a cash prize of £500 and the accolade of winning the prize.

There will also be three runners-up prizes.

THIS YEAR'S QUESTION

IS THE REAL PROBLEM NOT SO MUCH THAT WE LIVE IN POST-TRUTH SOCIETIES, BUT POST-TRUST ONES?

The humanities analyse the multiple ways in which humans shape their world, and they are inspired by the possibility of making that world a richer, better, more interesting and meaningful one.

Beneath simple labels like post-truth, alternative facts and fake news is a complex set of issues questioning our values. For this year's Dean's Prize you are invited to explore post-truth, post-trust societies.

The competition is all about creativity and imagination so feel free to explore the question in the way you see fit. Entries can be submitted in any format, such as a short video, photograph, poem, essay or piece of artwork – this list is by no means exhaustive – let your imagination decide.

DEADLINE FOR ENTRIES 12 noon Friday 16 March 2018
WINNERS will be announced in May 2018 and will be presented with their prizes at the awards ceremony in September 2018
