Second International Conference on Adoption Research (ICAR2)

17-21st July, 2006
Norwich, UK

The conference is to be held in the English medieval city of Norwich, in the beautiful, rural surroundings of the UK's East Anglian region. The conference builds on the success of the first International Conference on Adoption Research (ICAR) hosted by The University of Minnesota in 1999.

The goal of the conference is to bring together the worldwide, multidisciplinary community of distinguished and emerging adoption researchers, to enable sharing of research findings and to encourage interaction and debate about the future research agenda. Conference participants will be drawn from a wide range of disciplines such as psychology, psychiatry, sociology, anthropology, social work, history, social policy and law. The number of conference attendees will be limited to 120, to maximise interaction and retain focus. Confirmed keynote speakers are Michael Rutter, Femmie Juffer, David Reiss, Hal Grotevant, David Howe, Elsbeth Neil, Ruth McRoy, Jesús Palacios, Miriam Steele and E Wayne Carp. A workshop programme and poster sessions will enable a broad range of research teams to share their work: all delegates will present either a poster or a paper.

Please make a note of the date and keep a look out for the call for papers and registration information (coming soon).
