1.0 What is meant by ‘religion’?

- 1.1 Legally (under the Equality Act 2010 religion is an overarching term which covers any religion or belief that has a clear structure and belief system. Further information is available at <https://portal.uea.ac.uk/equality/aspects-of-equality/religion-and-belief> .
- 1.2 It is unlawful to discriminate, harass or victimise any individual about their religion or belief or their non-belief.

2.0 What is unacceptable religion related behaviour?

3.0 Definition of Hate Crime

- 3.1 The Association of Chief Police Officers and the Crown Prosecution Service² have agreed a definition of hate crime as follows:

4.0 What form do hate incidents take in relation to religion?

4.1 Hate incidents may take the form of verbal abuse, damage to property, bullying, assault, harassment or graffiti that are based on an individual's religion or perceived religion.

5.0 Why it is important to report a hate incident

5.1 UEA has a zero tolerance to any form of harassment, bullying or hate incident. It is important that the University and the Police have a better understanding of the nature and number of hate incidents on campus being experienced by or witnessed by UEA staff, students, members of the public, service users, suppliers, contractors or other individuals.

5.2 As more individuals make such disclosures, the University will be able to gather more realistic data and make more informed decisions in respect of issues that relate to staff of differing religions or beliefs and identify what additional support mechanisms might be needed in the workplace.

5.3 The University will not tolerate any form of hate incident and will take seriously any incidents that are brought to its attention.
