

MODULE - 40% PASS ON AGGREGATE

Module Type: Coursework

Timetable Slot:D2*F1/

The aims of this module are: To introduce students to the structure of the media industries in the UK, the justification for, and different models of regulation. To consider the main social, technological and regulatory influences shaping its development. To consider the regulation of the media markets. To consider the issues relating to the management of reputation from a private law perspective, including defamation and the protection of privacy. To consider legal issues pertaining to journalism (e.g. , contempt, courts, privilege).

2019/0 - LAW-6010A COMPETITION LAW

Autumn Semester, Level 6 module

(Maximum 60 Students)

UCU: 20

Organiser: Mr Elias Deutscher

MODULE - 40% PASS ON AGGREGATE

Module Type: Coursework

Timetable Slot:C1/*H1

This module is designed to allow a good understanding of the substantive and procedural rules of competition law as well as the core economic concepts of competition. It focuses on the main principles of competition law and investigates the means by which competition laws tackle such problems as cartels, abuses of monopolies and mergers. Broader issues, such as remedies and enforcement strategies will also be reviewed. The module will help to place the UK competition regime within its European and international contexts.

2019/0 - LAW-6011A DISCRIMINATION LAW

Autumn Semester, Level 6 module

(Maximum 60 Students)

UCU: 20

Organiser: Professor Gareth Thomas

MODULE - 40% PASS ON AGGREGATE

Module Type: Coursework

Timetable Slot:D3/*E1\

You will examine the historical development of UK and EU discrimination law, the causes of discrimination, the meaning of the concepts of “equality” and “discrimination”, potential justifications for discrimination, and the substantive UK and EU law concerning discrimination because of sex, gender reassignment, sexual orientation, marriage/civil partnership, pregnancy/maternity, race, religion or belief, disability and age. Particular emphasis is placed on the impact of EU Law on the development of UK anti-discrimination law, on the difficulties of enforcing anti-discrimination laws, and on future directions in discrimination law.

policing disorder & protest; surveillance; counter-terrorism; and police accountability This module, while not reserved for students in the Law School, is not recommended for those from other schools within UEA or from partner institutions abroad who have no experience of working with common law cases. Such students are advised to contact the module organiser in advance to discuss the appropriateness of their prior experience.