

I think Climategate needs another Climategate over this travesty of an 'independent review'! Perhaps we would be better off with sixth-form students before they get nobbled by the professional hustlers. I get a lot of mileage for my columns from these continuous revelations, but it is about time the frauds were kicked out of sight. First the 'unbiased' two, now a third who works for BP - a funder of the CRU!! Are the rest, including Muir, paid by the IPCC? Why not - it would complete the dirty half-dozen.
