

QUALITATIVE RESEARCH METHODS SYMPOSIUM 2022

Online Event 21 April 2022, 2pm (BST) start

'Reconnecting after disconnection: Big ideas from fine-grained experiences'

Welcome, introduction and orientation for the event.

2.00 -
2.15pm

Fiona Poland, Professor of Social Research Methodology, School of Health Sciences, University of East Anglia.

Keynote 1: Jamie Hakim, Lecturer in Culture, Media and Creative Industries, King's College London.

2.15 -
2.55pm

"Digital Intimacies: conjunctural analysis and queer men's smartphone mediated intimacies"
Q&A

2.55 -
3.05pm

Break & Delegate reflections on the panel question (using the chat)

Panel Discussion: "How do digital methods affect inclusivity in research?"

Chair: Fiona Poland

Panellists:

3.05 -
3.45pm

Laura Biggart, Senior Lecturer of Social Science Research and Psychology, School of Psychology, University of East Anglia

Stephanie Hannam-Swain, Senior Lecturer, Sheffield Hallam University

Matthew Lariviere, Lecturer in Social Policy, University of Bristol

3.45 -
3.55pm

Break & Delegate post-panel reflection (using the chat)

Keynote 2: Helen Manchester, Reader in Digital Inequalities and Urban Futures, School of Education, University of Bristol.

3.55 -
4.35pm

"Creative Connections in Troubled Times: how can we embed care in qualitative research?"
Q&A

4.35 -
4.50pm

Feedback, thanks, next steps and closing remarks